

The bonspiel this season at Vulcan will be held in January, commencing on the 12th. It has been so decided by the powers that be. This event has been anticipated by curlers ever since Vulcan was last year selected as the place of the bonspiel. Vulcan must now live up to its reputation, and it will. There are so many citizens curlers, and the bonspiel and the line of entertainment which will be necessary to its best success will develop to the extent that the affair becomes a real community event, and one that merits the best support of everybody. It is the annual bonspiel of the Foothills Curling Association, open to rinks of the towns on both lines of railroad, from Okotoks to Macleod, and from Aldersyde to Lethbridge, and the local curlers have decided to make it big. It is more than a month, but the time is none to long to make the arrangements necessary for just the kind of an event that everybody in Vulcan would desire it to be.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

Christmas is just four weeks from to-day, Thursday, and pending the interval, we are making the suggestion that preparations for the day, in the way of gifts, be considered now and that your shopping for this event be done early. This season, with much brighter conditions in effect, it is anticipated that the Christmas purchasing will be somewhat heavier and with this in view, the local merchants have made their preparations accordingly and have stocked their holiday attractions for inspection at this time. It is much more satisfactory both to the customers and the merchant to have the business started early and without the usual rush at the last moment which has generally been the habit.
The merchandise is now here. You know now about what your intentions are along the lines of Christmas giving, so why not begin to pick up your little and big presents when you can do so with leisure and better deliberation. Start now, buy early and often, and get these many little obligations and pleasures off your mind before the last minute so that you can enjoy the day and Christmas Eve without frustration and in a peaceful and happy frame of mind. Shop early and avoid the rush.

SHOULD PAY OUR PORTION

In order to keep open and secure the seas roads for the safe carriage of the goods of all nations, the Statesmen of Britain, caused to be built the Royal Navy, which they maintained, besides they surveyed, chartered and lighted all seas and incidentally rid them of pirates. That was England's great gift to the world, and it's understood by the Statesmen of all nations. When the question of international security was discussed recently by the delegates of the League of Nations at Geneva, the first thought was the British Navy. They all know that the British Navy alone secures the safety of the world's wealth in transportation, and incidentally the British Navy alone can exercise the most powerful influence to prevent war known to history. In this connection, Canada should assist in the maintenance of the navy that protects the Atlantic and Pacific shores. It would be good business in the long run for it is not right that we should reap benefits from that navy and not contribute a cent for its upkeep.

Mr. Winston Churchill, who said a politician could not but not re-rat has reratted successfully. He ratted from the Conservative party; became a minister in the Liberal party; a minister in the Unionist party and is now Chancellor of the Exchequer in the Conservative party. He boxed the compass politically and when many thought he was a has-been he compassed his way out of the box. Few men have been able to do what he has done but he is a man of rare ability and courage.

A man was arrested at Port Nelson the other day, because he had drunk a whole painful of water, this unusual draught arousing suspicions as to his mental condition. He was committed to gaol for a month and the Editor of the Orillia Packet facetiously remarks that some one will probably bail him out before the sentence has expired.

The Ku Klux Klan movement in Toronto is said to be a practical joke Trinity college students were responsible for one flaming cross near the college grounds and other school boys were behind the fiery cross display at another part of the city.

The speediest, earnest and almost the only way to build up a town or city is to do your purchasing there whenever possible. Money sent from home seldom returns.

Britain has the men and the money to help develop our resources, but we must convince them first.

RELIGION OF HAPPINESS

Posted on a tree in Fitchburg, Massachusetts, is a six foot billboard which reads, "Can a man be permanently happy without religion?" And that, perhaps, is the most pertinent question that has been addressed to the human race in the past 2000 years.
A man's religion is the method of living by which he hopes to align himself with the forces of the universe in such a way as to gain himself most contentment. It is an organized effort towards a definite end. In short, the religious man is the man who has organized his life to achieve an ideal existence. The irreligious man is the man who, whatever his beliefs may be, has not organized his life towards a definite goal. Religion is organized living. No man can be happy without religion, any more than a business can prosper without definite aims, and organization to reach those aims. The average man organizes his work. He goes into business with a definite idea and sticks to that idea. The average housewife organizes her housekeeping.
But not more than 40 per cent. of men and women organize their lives. Their search for dollars is pursued with mathematical nicety. But their search for happiness is haphazard, whimsical and convulsive. God is love and happiness. And all roads to God may be good. But, lacking the organization that is religion, too many of the world's people are taking up their pilgrimage to God through a trackless forest without even the faintest blaze to guide their way. There are those without religion that may stumble upon happiness; as the green prospector may stumble upon a vein of gold. But the happiness quest for most of us must find its way over paths that millions of feet have worn before.

INTERESTING MEMOIRS

A former Editor of the Northcliffe paper in England has produced his memoirs, and what he writes about the Versailles peace conference where the world's greatest statesmen gathered to end the war is very interesting.
He tells how Clemenceau called Lloyd George a liar, how Lloyd George shook Clemenceau by the collar, how Woodrow Wilson separated the combatants. He tells how Clemenceau refused to talk to Wilson because, he said, Wilson regarded himself as "a second Messiah." If this information had been published when it was news, some of the world's heroes might have toppled very suddenly to the ground.
And the people of his own country might have given Wilson a more sympathetic support had they known the true temper of some of the foreign statesmen with whom he dealt. Memoirs of this kind are simply delayed news, suppressed for purposes of expediency.

AERIAL FLIGHTS

The first recorded attempt at aerial flight in England was made in the Eleventh Century, when Oliver of Malmesbury, fitted wings to his hands and feet and flew from the top of a tower for more than a furlong. He fell and maimed his limbs, and declared his failure was due to the want of a tail as birds have. The successful transatlantic flight of the ZR3 has been followed by the announcement that the British Government has placed a contract for the construction of two dirigibles with a gas capacity of five million cubic feet, being twice the size of the ZR3, and with accommodation for two hundred passengers, with all the comforts of modern travel. It is intended to place one of these ships on the run to Australia, via Egypt and India. The difference between the failure of Oliver of Malmesbury and the achievements of today is the difference between ignorance and ordered knowledge.

H. Grindell Mathews, inventor of the "death ray" says his machine can explode powder, light lamps, kill mice and burn men at a distance of 35 yards. He has exhibited the machine in France and is now bringing it to America. If Mathews would supply "life rays" that will cure cancer, make soil fertile and carry power to aeroplanes he would be engaged in commendable work. We have too many death rays now, and what we want is more life rays.

A deputation asks the Minister of Education in Ontario to include sex-hygiene in the public school curriculum and the Minister said that the home was the best place for such instruction. That's the way to talk. The faddist has had too much scope already in building up the school curriculum.—Kincaid Review.

IN LOVE WITH THE BRITISH

Recently we read an excellent article from the pen of an American who visited England last summer, and we reproduce the concluding paragraphs of his capital story:

"I came home in love with the blooming British. From the time I landed there I felt the oneness of the two countries. Why shouldn't an American feel so in London? Their history and ours were the same history up till a few tiny hundreds of years ago (you don't realize what a moment a century is till you walk about the corridors more than a thousand years old). And more than this:
"When you realize that Great Britain taxed to within an inch of her life the only European nation standing on its hind feet and paying its debts voluntarily (like an honest man, though nobody is paying her anything), you'll rejoice, as I did, to realize that nation is our next of kin!"

ALBERTA JUDGING TEAMS WIN

Considerable distinction has been brought to the Province of Alberta during the past week by the success of the stock judging teams which represented the province at the Royal Show at Toronto. The team in swine judging from Vegreville, comprised of Albert Jones and Peter Wylie, was successful in winning the Canadian National stock judging competition against the other western teams at Toronto. This team won the C.P.R. silver trophy in the swine judging competitions of the boys and girls clubs in Northern Alberta some weeks ago, and also the free trip to the Toronto show, offered by the Canadian National railways. The team was coached by F. H. Newcombe, district agriculturist of the Provincial Department at Vegreville. The Macdonald cup in the stock judging contest at Toronto, was won by the team from Alberta University comprised of Thos. Devlin, Wm. Gentleman, Malcolm McArr. C.
K. Johns and L. B. Thomson, in charge of Prof. Sackville of the Animal Husbandry Department of the University.
Premier honours in the entire competition were carried off by Devlin.

A "MASTERPIECE"

The editor has received a copy of the Hockey Pictorial which has just been published, and which it at once the handsomest and most complete publication ever produced in the world for any single sport. It is a marvel of good taste in artistry and industry of achievement. It is impossible to speak too highly of it. The book represents years of effort typographically and pictorially, it is a "masterpiece." From cover to cover is embellished with group pictures of championship teams from 1888 to 1924, in fact, the history of Canada's Great National Sport is told in pictures. Old-timers will be interested in the handsome halftones of the teams who were prominent a generation ago, while the younger enthusiasts will enjoy the reproductions of the more recent winners. The book is not only lavishly illustrated, but is literally crammed with much interesting information regarding individuals, clubs and leagues throughout the country. Local fans will find a very interesting group picture of the Canadian Olympic Hockey Champions of 1924 on the front cover and also a complete history of the players and records right to the finals.
The book sells for $2.00, and can be secured by writing to the Hockey Pictorial, 84 Victoria St., Toronto.

WHERE WOMEN SCORE

Every married man has had this experience: Husband meets a man with an impressive front, swallows him, hook, line and sinker. He is so impressive that he insists on his wife meeting him. Friend wife, meeting the stranger, isn't impressed. Why?
Well, she doesn't know exactly; the stranger, has a peculiar look about his eyes; he wears the wrong color neck-tie, or looks as if he were mean to his wife. Time proves the wife was right in her size-up. Instinct, the sixth sense, told her. The only accurate clairvoyant is a woman's intuition.—La Grande, Ore., Observer.

AMERICAN EXPENSIVENESS

An interesting story is recalled of three Americans who were far from home on July 4, but who made up their minds that they would not forget the birthday of the great Republic. So they filled their glasses, and the first man proposed this toast:

"Here's to my country, which is bounded on the north by the Great Lakes, on the south by the Gulf of Mexico, on the east by the Atlantic Ocean."

As the champagne flowed down their patriotisms started to move up, and the next man gave a toast in the following terms:

bounded on the north by the North Pole, and on the south by the South Pole, on the east by the rising sun, and on the west by the setting sun."

The champagne still went down, and their spirits still rose as the third man gave his toast in these terms:

bounded on the north by the Aurora Borealis, on the south by the proce-sion of the Equinox, on the east by primeval chaos, and on the west by Judgment Day."

In Denmark the producers derive 70 per cent of the price of the hog under the Co-operative system, while here the farmer is lucky to get 40 per cent. There, hog men do not ask what the price is when they deliver, for they know they will get their full amount after being marketed. Denmark has an advantage, inasmuch as they can place their bacon in the London market, 36 hours after killing. The passage over the North Sea is as good as cold storage and the bacon is in prime condition upon arrival in England.

With the continuation of the present rate of production to the end of the year, the value of British Columbia's mineral output for the current year will amount to approximately $50,000,000. This is $9,000,000 more than last year.

Western Canada is entering upon a new era of prosperity. A change for the better for individuals in all walks of life is seen on every hand. The prospective improvement will be reflected in the private and business life of all concerned. Business men from Eastern Canada who in recent years have advanced capital for the development of Western industry, whether it be agricultural or otherwise, rural or urban, view the general situation with great satisfaction. Western business, though somewhat more backward in showing optimism over the changing conditions, are also looking on the improved situation with a more cheerful view. The prosperity of the the debt was contracted and later paid. The merchant who received the payment was placed in the position of being able to pay his wholesaler, who in turn passed the money on into various other channels, enabling individuals in the employ of other industries to purchase more of the produce of the farms. So when the farmer gets his money for his grain and pays off his local merchant he is starting an endless chain in motion that reaches around the whole country. So it is quite apparent that the prosperity that is in view for Western Canada can only become an accomplished fact through the realization that for all to share in this prosperity each and every one must do his share to promote it.

PRIZE ESSAY

Rosie Koraszynski Wins First in Public School

The following is the first prize essay on "Fire Prevention," in the Public School section, Vulcan Schools, written for the annual competition on this subject:

There are many thousands of dollars lost yearly by fire in Alberta alone, so think of the great loss in Canada. We can prevent this loss if we are more careful. The average loss for Canada by fire in ten years is forty-eight million dollars. The average loss for Canada in nineteen-twenty-three alone, was two hundred and eighty-two thousand, three hundred and eighty-two thousand, three hundred and fifty four in property alone. The fires cost Canada one hundred million, eight hundred and ninety-four thousand, three hundred and eighty-four dollars. Seventy five per cent. of these fires were caused by negligence. In ten years, fire has taken the lives of three thousand, five hundred citizens. Sixty per cent of these lives were children under twelve years of age. It cost Canada one hundred and forty thousand dollars a day, or one hundred and forty dollars a minute, for insurance. In the European countries they pay thirty five cents per head, for fire protection. In Canada we pay six dollars. So you can see for yourself how many more fires we have in Canada, than in the European countries. In nineteen sixteen, there were five hundred and sixty-three deaths in Canada. In nineteen seventeen, two hundred, and thirty-five deaths. In nineteen eighteen, two hundred and sixty one deaths. In nineteen nineteen, six hundred and thirty-nine deaths. In nineteen twenty, two hundred and eighty-six deaths. In nineteen twenty one, three hundred and thirty-six. In nineteen twenty two, three hundred and thirty-six. In nineteen twenty three, three hundred and ninety-seven. There are many ways of preventing fires, if we only think over how they are all started. The mistakes that are made are very simple.

1—One of the simplest mistakes which often starts fires, is the collection of soot in the stove pipes. The soot may catch fire if the stove is over-heated, and then it is able to catch fire, to the wood-work or anything that happens to be near it.

2—Always be sure that the stove pipes are securely wired up, so as they cannot fall down. The walls above the stove pipes, should be protected by brick, cement, or sheet metal.

3—Another way in which fires are often started, is carelessness in throwing out ashes. They should be quite cold if thrown out in piles, but they should really be put in a metal container because if they are thrown out near a wood-pile, or anything that is able to burn, some serious damage might happen. Rubbish of any kind should not be left near buildings. It should be burned in a metal container. Children light bonfires which can easily catch fire to something, and do damage to a great extent, which will cost a large sum of money. Therefore they should be forbidden to carry matches.

4—Never use gasoline inside the house for cleaning. If you are compelled to do so, for any other purpose, do not use it near the stove as it is likely to explode. Always remember when you are using this substance, you are taking a great risk of your lives, and property of any kind. Never use kerosene near the fire as it is also dangerous.

5—Do not dry clothing, or any flammables near or above hot stoves, as they can easily start a fire.

6—Oily rags should be kept in standard metal waste cans, and contents removed and burned each night.

7—Never leave children alone at night because they might chance to play with matches, and when you return, the house might be burned.

8—Remove all dry grass and leaves from your premises, before some one carelessly throws a match near them.

9—Don't use coal oil, benzene, or naphtha in lighting or replenishing a slow fire, it may result in death.

10—Don't fill any lamp with gasoline, or coal oil while the lamp is lighted. Keep all burners clean.

11—Always be careful with lamps if you use them. Never leave children alone with lamps because they might knock them over, or jerk the table or any object on which they stand.

12—Use safety matches, they cost no more.

13—All buildings, over two stories high in height, should be provided with fire escapes.

14—Don't throw any lighted cigarettes, cigars, or lighted matches away.

15—Don't use gasoline, or benzene to clean clothing, near an open flame, light or fire.

16—All dwellings, and their surroundings should be carefully inspected by their occupants frequently.

17—Fire drills should be held for children in all schools, so that in case of fire, the children will not rush out, but march to safety in an orderly way.

18—Do not dry clothing and inflammables near, or about hot stoves.

19—Steam pipes should not be in contact with wood, or other combustible substance.

20—Be sure all flue holes, to be used this year, have good metal stops, as many fires are caused by sparks through papering over un-used pipe holes, in the chimney.

21—Do not use canned heat, near a stove as it is very likely to explode.

22—Never leave fat in the oven.

23—Do not over heat your iron when ironing.

24—It is better to keep all light wood, kindling and boxes in sheds, attics or basements in orderly piles and not to have papers, or anything else mixed with it.

25—Stairways should be kept closed and clear at all times.

26—All doors should swing freely in schools and public buildings. This may prevent the loss of many lives.

Think these questions over carefully.

1—Do you use safety matches?

2—Are floors under stoves, protected with, tile, brick, concrete or metal, so as to prevent them taking fire from the heat?

3—Are stoves pipes, passing through partitions properly protected?

4—Are ashes deposited in metal receptacles, and removed from the buildings weekly?

5—Are chimneys in good repair?

6—Have flues been cleaned for winter?

7—Is the use of gasoline forbidden inside the house?

8—Do you know the telephone number of the fire department?

All the rules that I have mentioned, are very simple, and if all of us will keep them in mind and try to follow them, I think the loss of fire would decrease greatly. So let us all join together to help in the defeat one of the most destructive forces for the future prosperity of the Dominion.

BERRYWATER NEWS

The chicken supper, concert and dance held in the school on the evening of November 22nd, under the auspices of the U.F.A. and U.F.W.A., was attended by a large crowd, and all present appeared to have a good time. Hearty thanks is due to the members and friends who worked so hard to make this annual event a success. The tables looked very pretty and bright, the color scheme being red and white, and the attractive menu cards (the work of the scholars attending Berrywater school) were much admired, and Miss Myrtle Carr is to be complimented on her beautifully executed poster displayed in the school. The supper was followed by an excellent program of music, songs, dances, recitations and dialogues with Mr. Wilson Oldfield in the chair. Those taking part were Mrs. W. Campbell, Mrs. J. Baden, Miss Gilhooley, Miss Timms, the Misses Carr, Miss Adams, Miss Richardson, Miss Base, Miss Annie McLean, Miss Ethel Campbell, Mr. Haslam, Mr. N. Campbell, Mrs. W. Campbell being the accompanist, and judging by the hearty applause and encores, the audience fully appreciated this part of the evening's entertainment. The program closed by the singing of God Save the King. Willing workers then soon cleared the school room for dancing which continued till the early hours of the morning, the music being supplied by friends and members of both locals, Mr. L. Douglas ably filling the role of M.C. It was announced during the evening, that there would be a dance at Milo Hall on Friday, November 28th, music to be supplied by Mrs. Trainor's orchestra; a sale of work and dance at the Union Jack School on December 5th and a Christmas entertainment and dance in Berrywater school on the evening of December 19. Everybody welcome.

There was an error last week in the announcement of the next meeting of the Berrywater U.F.W.A., and to correct this is the purpose of this item. The meeting will be held on December 10th at the home of Mrs. Mills.
